Be it Enacted by the People of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative Declaration

(1) The People of the State of Colorado find, determine, and declare that:

(a) Colorado taxpayers are entitled to a fair and equitable tax system that recognizes the affordability challenges facing working families, promotes a vibrant statewide economy, and adequately supports our public education, health care, and child care systems and other essential public services available to all Coloradans;

(b) Colorado's current flat income tax system, unlike the graduated income tax system at the federal level and in 27 other states, taxes millionaires and corporations at the same rate as regular working people;

(c) Combining state income, sales, and property taxes, the wealthiest 1% of Coloradans—those making over $850,000 per year—pay only 7% of their income in state and local taxes every year, whereas the 60% of Coloradans making between $25,000 and $150,000 per year pay between 9-10%.

(d) The 97% of Colorado taxpayers making less than $500,000 would benefit from a tax cut to help them afford the high cost of living;

(e) The Taxpayer's Bill of Rights, or the TABOR amendment, has significantly limited the ability of state and local governments to invest in supporting teachers and care workers, building infrastructure, and keeping up with a changing economy;

(f) TABOR can be amended to allow a graduated income tax without impacting TABOR refunds or the voters' right to approve any future tax increases;

(g) As demonstrated by recent state-commissioned adequacy studies, Colorado's public schools have been underfunded for decades, and despite the elimination of the Budget Stabilization Factor in 2024, teacher wage competitiveness is still 50th in the country.

(h) Health care in Colorado is too expensive, and the cuts in the federal budget bill are expected to exceed $2 billion per year by 2032, with rural hospitals and clinics facing the greatest risks for closing or limiting services;

(i) Child care in Colorado is too expensive, making it harder for parents to work while raising their families, and yet wages are so low that 46 percent of early childhood workers in the state rely on social welfare programs like Medicaid and SNAP;

(2) The People of the State of Colorado find, therefore, that:

(a) A graduated income tax system will:

(I) Better support Colorado's children and families, working people, and older adults by cutting taxes for individuals and small businesses making less than $500,000 per year while only increasing taxes on individuals and corporations making more than $500,000 per year;

(II) Increase Colorado's ability to adequately invest in our public schools, health care, and child care systems and programs to improve the affordability of health care and child care;

(b) A graduated income tax system will not:

(I) Change the Constitutional requirement that the state government cannot raise any tax rates without another vote of the people;

(II) Reduce or otherwise impact TABOR refunds, because any revenue raised from Colorado's current 4.4% flat income tax, 2.9% sales tax, and various other taxes and fees that exceeds the TABOR spending limit will be required to be refunded to taxpayers;

(c) All new revenue from graduated income tax that exceeds what would have otherwise been collected under Colorado's current tax rates will be transferred into the Colorado's Future Fund, with spending limited to the following purposes:

(I) Improving our public education system, increasing pay to attract and retain great teachers, reducing class sizes, supporting rural schools, and supporting affordable pathways to higher education and workforce training;

(II) Improving our health care system, making health care more affordable, replacing federal Medicaid funds that were cut by the federal budget bill, implementing new requirements in the federal budget bill, increasing access to mental and behavioral health care and primary care, supporting services for older adults and people with disabilities, increasing access to nutritious food, supporting our health care workforce, and supporting rural hospitals and clinics;

(III) Improving our early child care and education systems, helping families afford child care, and increasing pay to attract and retain great child care providers;

(d) New revenues are intended to supplement rather than supplant existing funding;

(e) Taxpayers will be able to monitor and assure responsible and effective usage of all new revenue based on the following requirements:

(I) The nonpartisan office of Legislative Council will produce an annual report on all spending of new revenue that will be accessible to the public in various formats including the

General Assembly’s website with plain language descriptions and understandable data visualizations;

(II) The nonpartisan and independent Office of the State Auditor will annually audit this report and present findings to the Joint Budget Committee and the public;

SECTION 2 In the constitution of the state of Colorado, section 20 of article X, amend (8)(a) as follows:

(8) Revenue limits. (a) New or increased transfer tax rates on real property are prohibited. No new state real property tax or local district income tax shall be imposed. Any income tax law change after July 1, 1992 shall also require ~~all taxable net income to be taxed at one rate, excluding refund tax credits or voter approved tax credits, with~~ no added tax or surcharge.
